

The inner product of the ray vector and the normal vector of the stabbing side to determine whether it is inside or outside.

